

The 60th ENC

Experimental Nuclear Magnetic Resonance Conference

April 7 – 12, 2019 | Asilomar Conference Grounds | Pacific Grove, California

We hope that you will join us as the ENC returns to Asilomar for 2019. Use the form on page 2 to reserve your participation.

Please note

Asilomar guest rooms will now be reserved by you online directly with Asilomar. Look for link to online hotel reservations at Asilomar on the ENC website under Location & Travel. There is an option to include a Saturday night stay.

ABOUT ASILOMAR. All sessions, accommodations, exhibit booths, and hospitality suites will be located on the Asilomar Conference grounds, a California State Park on the Pacific Ocean in Pacific Grove, CA. The campus setting provides a beautiful and relaxed venue that is ideal for networking. Attendees enjoy the stroll among the hospitality suites that are spread throughout the grounds.

EXHIBIT BOOTHS. Exhibit booths will be located in the Fred Farr parking garage along with the posters. The welcome reception will be held Sunday afternoon in this area to highlight exhibit booths and student posters. Monday through Thursday exhibit booths should expect traffic during the daily poster sessions. Booth cost is $1,650 for a 10' (wide) x 8' (deep) booth and includes one six-foot table, two chair, and one full conference registration.

CONFERENCE REGISTRATION. Once your order form is received, you will be sent a special vendor registration packet for employee registrations and any complimentary registrations you are entitled to receive.

HOSPITALITY SUITES. Companies that occupied space for hospitality suites in the past have been pre-assigned space. You may indicate on the form that you are interested if space becomes available. Suites are scattered throughout the Asilomar Grounds in meeting rooms or living rooms connected to the various housing units. The ENC charge for a hospitality suite is $4 per square foot with a minimum of $1,700 for the small living rooms. This charge includes two full conference registrations.

We look forward to working with you on another successful ENC at Asilomar. Thank you for your support.
